

Italy

Enquiry question: How is Italy different to where I live?

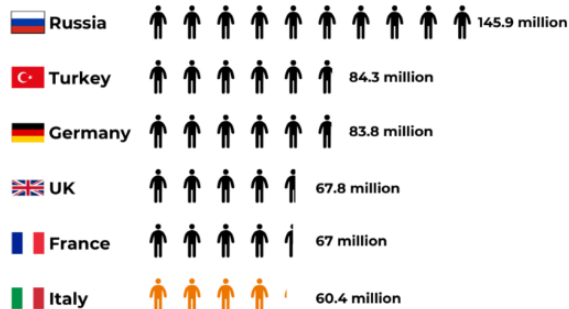

Equator and Tropics of Cancer and Capricorn

Population

60.4 million inhabitants in Italy
in 2020

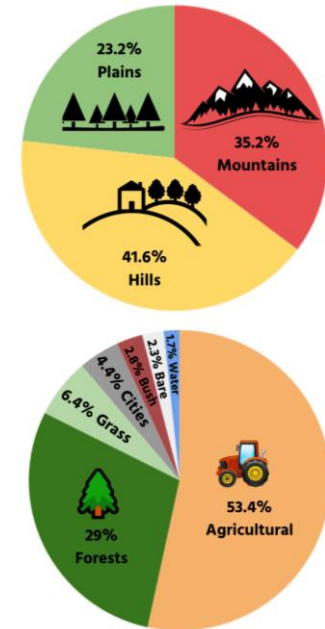

Italy is the 6th most populated country in Europe

The Main Facts

- Italy total area is 301,340 km² making it the 10th biggest country in Europe, and 73rd in the world
- 76.8% of Italy is covered by mountains
- Only 1.7% of Italy is made of water (lakes, rivers, swamps)
- Italy has 7,600 km of coastline ranking 15th in the world after Mexico and before India
- There are more than 1000 rivers in Italy.
- There are two main mountain ranges in Italy: the Alps and the Apennines.

LAND COVER COMPOSITION OF ITALY

THE SEAS & COUNTRIES BORDERING ITALY

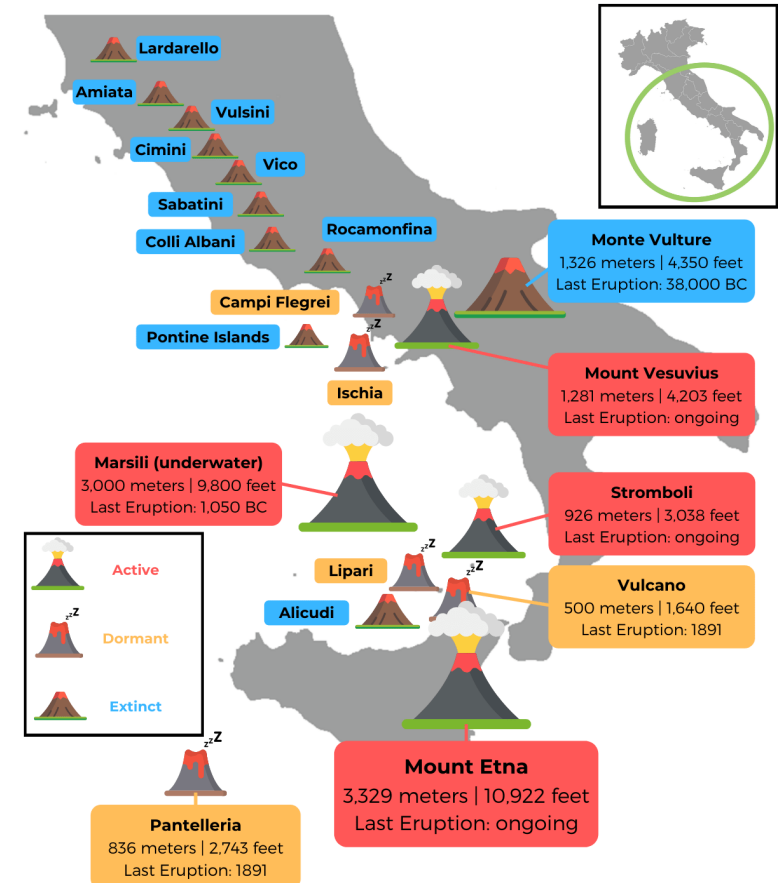

- ### Key concepts:
- Space
 - Place
 - Physical and Human Processes
 - Cultural Awareness and Diversity

Key Vocabulary

Region	A large area of land
Urban	The area surrounding a city
Population	A group of individuals/species that are living in a certain area
Economy	Making, distributing and consuming goods
Equator	Imaginary line around the middle of Earth (or any other celestial body)
Hemisphere	Half of a sphere (Earth for example)
Rural	Lots of land with not many people
Climate	Long-term pattern of weather in a particular area
Maritime	Bordering the sea
Mediterranean	An area with hot, dry summers and mild, wet winters

THE VOLCANOES OF ITALY 🇮🇹

Which country will change the most by the time that I have left school?