

Migration

Background Information

During this topic, the children will learn about the Windrush. The ship, Empire Windrush, docked in Tilbury on 22 June 1948, bringing workers from Jamaica, Trinidad and Tobago and other islands, to help fill post-war UK labour shortages. In science lessons, they will study electricity. They will first identify the different electrical components and then learn how to fix faults that occur in circuits. For our art, the children will weave from a loom using fabrics inspired by colours of the Caribbean islands.

Killer Facts!

- Batteries (cells) are a store of energy which pushes electricity round a circuit. When the battery's energy is gone, it stops pushing energy.
- Dominoes was a popular game on the Windrush
- The more electrical current that flows into a device, the harder it works.
- The higher the voltage, the brighter a lamp will be/the louder a buzzer will be.
- The journey on the Windrush took three weeks!
- When current flows through wires, heat is released. The greater the current, the greater the heat.
- Each component in an electrical circuit can be represented by a set of recognised symbols.
